Small Business Saturday Deal 50% off Track Blocking Queries with Email Alerts

The reason that I have chosen this deal for Small Business Saturday is that this blocking query script has made such a big difference for so many of our small business customers.

This is more than just a course, enrollment in the course also gets you access to our track blocking queries script, and training on how to use it. This is script that runs as a SQL Server agent job and over time catches blocking and logs it to a table. With this it gives you the ability to go back and find out what query is causing the blocking, and what is being blocked. If you have occasional or frequent blocking on your SQL Server and you want to find out what the cause is, then this class and included script can help you.

Here is the direct link to the class using the coupon code, valid through November 27.
