

Home after Seattle (Redmond) Code Camp 2012

What a great day at Code Camp today.

The first presentation that I attended was Accelerating your Development Workflow presentation by Ian Davis. What a great presentation, it touched on the lean and agile development processes, it was very well done.

The next one was a PowerShell presentation that was okay, then I presented the following three sessions.

What's New in TSQL 2012

Unleashing Common Table Expressions in SQL Server

The CTE presentation is currently my most polished presentation, it was first presented at SQLSaturday in Redmond a few months back.

SQL Server Performance for Developers

I hope that everyone who attended had a great time, and learned something new!
