Raving fan June 2021

We contacted Steve when we were in desperate need of repair on a corrupted SQL database. After dealing with a couple of other vendors without success, we found Steve (Stedman Solutions) through a Google search that showed some promising reviews and reached out to discuss our issue. This turned out to be the best possible decision. Not only did he connect right away with us, he set realistic expectations and pricing. Steve and his team began work almost immediately and stayed in constant contact throughout the entire process. It is clear that Steve and Derrick are in the top 1% in their market. The end result was a 99% recovery of the corruption, and the remining 1% was irrelevant and not needed. Out database performs as good or better now than it did before the corruption. We would not hesitate to recommend Steve, Derrick and the rest of the team to anyone in need of the services that Stedman Solutions offers. They are worth every penny.
