

Presenting at SQL Saturday #212 in Redmond Tomorrow

I will be presenting at SQL Saturday #212 in Redmond tomorrow.

My presentation will be on Common Table Expressions, and it is the first CTE presentation since my Common Table Expressions book released. I have updated the presentation to include a number of new things relating to CTE's that I figured out while writing the book.

This will be my second SQL Saturday in Redmond, the first one was a year ago. SQL Saturdays are a great learning experience, and I am looking forward to a great day of free learning.

Also, if you are at SQL Saturday, drop by the Joes2Pros table/booth and take a look at my Common Table Expressions book. Let me know what you think. See you in Redmond.
