New - SQL Server Health report

Over the last couple of weeks I have taken a couple of the common queries that I use to analyze the health of a SQL Server and built them out into a SQL Server 2008 SSRS report.

I have decided to make this report available to anyone who want to run it.

The SQL Server Health report is available to download. Try it out and let me know what you think.