Whiteboard Interview Questions

Last week Aaron Buma and I were attended a session at Western Washington University where we were asked to present to the ACM club on how to work through the white board coding questions in the technical interview.